
New Sales Manager for UK Autoclave Manufacturer

This month Lee Oakley has been confirmed as the new Sales Manager for Priorclave, one of the UK's top autoclave manufacturers. The appointment comes in recognition of strong and growing UK sales, enabling Priorclave to strengthen the company's commitment to providing a direct increase in customer support throughout the UK and Ireland.

Lee, aged 43, joined the company as Product Manager seven years ago to help consolidate the company's reputation for quality and efficiency through high class technical support across the UK and European Distributor network. During this period his role has taken a more pro-active involvement in distributor support, his appointment coming in direct recognition of his sales skills, product knowledge and understanding of customer requirements.

As Sales Manager Lee also will be responsible for overseeing the day-to-day operation of the Customer Support/Service Team to ensure delivery of excellence in customer care.
